

“Music for Mind”

TrevWilliamsMusicPresents

The Follys

Having just released their debut EP Sunrise, The Follys play indie pop music with a twist of rock! The three piece consists of singer/songwriter Trev Williams, along with bass player Paul Hancock and drummer Luke Gerry. www.myspace.com/thefollys

Alice Doyne

Between trying to get a degree in History and watching Scrubs, Alice Doyne writes pop-rocking indie tunes about life's little dramas, being a 'Raging Socialist' [courtesy of Becki' Tony Blair is a Raging Socialist' Biscoe] and drinking too much, too often. www.myspace.com/alicedoyne

Hannah Harris

Drawing both from the dark, the mundane and the cinematic Hannah has put together a sound that is in one part Massive Attack and one part Ray Lamontagne. Hannah has gigged regularly in London and other major UK cities getting an excellent response, and is currently working on a new 6-track EP. www.myspace.com/hannahharris

Naomi Bullock

A red haired draps callion originating from a land where dragons roam free! Naomi plays piano and sings with all the raw emotion of Alanis Morissette, and the subtlety of Rigina Spector. www.myspace.com/naybull

DJ Toxic Jungle

Finishing the night off will be DJ Toxic Jungle (Attack of the...), who will be chilling us out with some of his beats. www.myspace.com/idmistdan

Friday, 23rd May 2008

8.00 p.m. - 1.00 a.m.

Exeter Hall

1 Oxford Road, at the top end of Cowley Road, Oxford OX4 2EN
(past Majestic Wine, but before the petrol garage)

For better
mental health

Entry £3 on the door.

For more info visit www.trevwilliams.co.uk

All proceeds to Oxfordshire Mind - Reg Charity No. 261476

