

“Music in Mind”

TrevWilliamsMusicPresents

The Dacoits

From a remote farm house near Faringdon, Carrie Rossiter fronts the Dacoits, compared to PJ Harvey and “husky, dark -minded garage -pop...with obvious commercial appeal” Nighshift September 2008. This is their debut performance on Oxford soil, with a brand new EP Dumbstuck, produced with Chris Sheldon (Foo Fighters/Oceansize/Idlewild/Pixies), having just been released. www.myspace.com/thedacoits

The Follys

Trev Williams, Luke Gerry and Paul Hancock have recently been busy writing new songs for their forthcoming follow up EP “Map to Nowhere”. This will be the first Oxford performance of the new songs set to be released early next year. www.myspace.com/thefollys

High Risby

Stefano and Alice writes surreal, catchy and quirky acoustic songs about almost everything. Sometimes folk/rock can have a wry smile instead of fey self -indulgence! www.myspace.com/highrisby

Bethany Weimers

Bethany is an Oxfordshire -based singer, songwriter and composer. She mesmerises audiences with her captivating unique voice and beautiful infectious folk -tinged songs about love, life and days gone by. Beautiful, haunting and infectious songs. www.myspace.com/bethanyweimers

DJ John Anthony

Will be finishing off the night playing his funky house tunes!

Friday, 17th October 2008

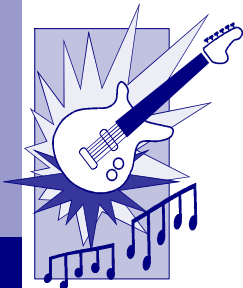

8.00 p.m. - 1.00 a.m.

Exeter Hall

1 Oxford Road, at the top end of Cowley Road, Oxford OX4 2EN
(past Majestic Wine, but before the petrol garage)

Entry £4

Tickets available on the door or in advance from Trev Williams 07951389896
This event has been organised by Trev Williams in aid of Oxfordshire Mind Reg Charity No. 261476
For more info visit www.trevwilliams.co.uk

For better
mental health

